Kabul regime falsely claims capture of Mujahideen martyr combatants

Zabihullah Mujahid Monday, 23 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 Monday, 04 February 2013 11:00

KABUL, Feb. 04 - Puppet police and intelligence, in a statement issued by Kabul regime later on Sunday, mendaciously claimed arresting 8 martyrdom-seeking Mujahideen of the Islamic Emirate armed with assault rifles, hand grenades and explosive vests in a residential building in central Kabul, the capital of the country. The Islamic Emirate strongly rejects such claims what are nothing more than spurious and groundless propaganda and assure all Mujahideen that no such a person as having any links with Mujahideen has been captured by the enemy so far. Mujahideen blows on the enemy have always proved fatal due to the operations' strategic tactics, accuracy, precision and organization. The enemy have always, in a series of failed attempts, plotted to spread such baseless propaganda in which they may have tried to prove their upper hand and what have really gotten them nowhere.

Remarks of spokesman of Islamic Emirate concerning the endorsement and approval of UN report

02 Rabi'ul Akhir 1434 - 13 February 2013

The political representation of UN in Afghanistan recently released a report about wide spread systematic torture of political prisoners in Afghanistan which was promptly rejected by the Interior Ministry of Karzai administration however the findings of this same UN report were confirmed by the supporters of the stooge regime who testified to systematic torture being rife in prisons. As the report only documents torture of political prisoners therefore the Islamic Emirate states that it has reliable information that unparalleled torture is ongoing inside the prisons of intelligence agencies. Similarly, all impartial organizations must also carry out probes into hidden personal torture cells littered across the country. Prisoners are kept for prolonged periods in these secret personal cells and sometimes these same persons are martyred, the bodies of whom later discovered by locals in deserts and returned to their loved ones. Secrets cells are built by local puppet forces inside the district centers of several districts, prisoners are brought there without warrants and severely tortured. An example is the personal prison built in Kandahar province's Boldak district in which many of our countrymen are being held and tortured. Many innocent people are kept for prolonged periods in horrendous conditions inside its basement from which many have disappeared only to be later found martyred and mutilated in the desert close to the shrine of Ibraheem Khelo Khalifa Baba to the south of Kandahar city. The Islamic Emirate calls on all free organizations to fulfill their duties in preventing such tragedies.

Reaction of Islamic Emirate regarding announcement of troop reduction from Afghanistan by Obama

02 Rabi'ul Akhir 1434 - 13 February 2013

The western governments should by now have realized they must salvage themselves from the protracted and pointless war in Afghanistan which truly has brought down tragedies and disasters on America and other arrogant countries. Thousands of their soldiers were killed, maimed and mentally disabled; billions of dollars was spent; economies of involved invading countries faced decline; its own people were reduced to beggary and other such ills.....

Now the time has come for the American president Obama and other head of states of invading countries to understand the realities of this futile war and instead of tactical efforts, troop reductions and gradual withdrawals, focus on the conditions, calls and needs of its own people and immediately extract all its troops from our country. The core solution to the Afghan problem rests the complete end of its occupation. The Afghans should be granted control, choice of government and sovereignty of their country. If not such then our sacred Jihad will intensify and forge ahead successfully even if one foreign soldier is present in our country and this struggle will continue until the fulfillment of the aspirations of our people. The announcement by Obama of removal of thirty four thousand troops from Afghanistan is not the core solution to the problem and steps must be taken for their complete withdrawal because that will be beneficial for both America and Afghanistan. That which must be done tomorrow with more losses, ignominy and humiliations should be done today and an end brought to the occupation of Afghanistan.

An open letter to the UNAMA about the biased behavior of this Organization

21 February 2013

Regretfully the report published by the head of the UNAMA in Kabul, about the civilian casualties in the country does not bear impartiality. An effort has been made that the losses inflicted by the invaders are also ascribed to us and they have been totally acquitted. While every educated or uneducated Afghan can easily decide about your this judgment because he observes and feels the prevailing situation, the indiscriminate bombardment of the trespassers and their brutalities. But we do not understand why you are not considerate for the prestige of your organization and do everything for Americans?

As a part of the United Nations Organization, it should have never been expected from you, but unfortunately we observe it. In the following we send you our objection regarding your biased report in the form of an open letter which will be then sent to the media in the exact from.

As you repeatedly mention in your reports the numerous civilian casualties inflicted by Mujahidin and do not tell the exact time and place, is itself a point of concern and anxiety.

The head of your organization, Ján Kubiš, has been quoted, "The terrifying incidents of civilian casualties have been increased by 700%. I emphasize that the civilians are those working for the government, different officials, tribal and religious leaders and those working for peace. It is a war crime and those who commit it will be punished for their crimes."

We do not understand whom do you call civilians? Are the innocent people not civilians according to your definition who were martyred in Said Abad district of Maidan Wardak province in American bombardment sometime ago and the Mosque was destroyed? Similarly are those innocent and oppressed children and women not civilian who were martyred a few days earlier in Shaigal area of Konar province? If these people are civilian, then why are they not highlighted in your reports? On the other side you never forget the officials and their stooges!!!

According to us civilians are those who are in no way involved in fighting. The white-bearded people, women, children and common people who live an ordinary life, it is illegitimate to bring them under attack or kill them. But it has been disclosed to us that the police of Kabul admin, those personnel of the security companies who escort the foreigners' supply convoys and are practically armed, similarly those key figures of the Kabul admin who support the invasion and make plans against their people, religion and homeland, those people who move forward the surrender process for Americans in the name of peace and those Arbakis who plunder the goods, chastity and honour of the people by taking dollar salaries, all these people are civilian according to you. No Afghan can accept that the above mentioned people are civilian. We have pledged in the beginning of our yearly operations that these people are criminals. They are directly involved in the protraction of our country's invasion and legally we do not find any difficulty in their elimination, rather we consider it our obligation.

If we accept that the killing of those people who support the invaders is the killing of civilian, then ask about the condition of the prisoners in Bagram and Pul-i-Charkhi jails where 92% are the people who are told that they have helped the Taliban, have provided food and shelter and feel sympathy for them. Then according to your calculation, why thousands of these are lying in jails for years and you don't find any place in your reports to mention them? When every night the American brutal soldiers made tens of raids and target those houses and people who have sympathy for Mujahidin or at least have provided them food, why these raids are not mentioned in your reports? Why have you forgotten the killing and torture of women and aged people?

Our mines, which are placed in the ground very carefully, are blasted by remote controls over the enemy. They kill the enemy and destroy their vehicles. We have frequently released the pictures and video clips of these incidents. But your report says, "The main cause of the civilian casualties is the landmines which have killed more than 800 people and have injured other 1600 last year."

What are your arguments for the above allegations? You might have mentioned the blasts in some parts of the country over the civilian's vehicles in which national buses or some other transportation is targeted; we have already explained that our mines are blasted by remote controls over specific targets and are not used against the common people.

The next point is that when these incidents took place, you have not made contact with us as an impartial organ to clarify that who has planted this mine and why has it been blasted over the civilian? It seems that the information that these mines are fixed by Mujahidin is either provided by the invaders or by the puppet admin of Kabul and you consider their antagonistic reports reliable against us, whereas most of the civilian vehicles are blasted in the mines fixed by intelligence organs of the enemy just for our ill repute. The instance in place is the last year mine blast in Nangarhar province in which 11 little girls were martyred and later on some more mines were found there which were freshly planted and all of them were British made. The area was not a fighting zone either. It might have been a minor and usual incident for you that could not find place in your report but in reality it was not an insignificant and negligible incident.

The obvious thing is that our enemy is exhausted with our mine tactics and has suffered serious losses and you want to defame our effective resource by their recommendation and point it out as the main reason of the civilian casualties. The reason is that the number of civilian mine casualties in the previous ten years is even less than the number you have mentioned in the last one year.

The other astonishing thing is that the in-charge of your Kabul office, Yankobish has been quoted, "The deployment of those children whose brains are washed including the suicidal attacks are shocking and against the Islamic norms and values."

We consider the above propaganda ambiguous. Where have the children participated in suicidal attacks? Whether your organization has some authentic proofs which show that any child has either been exploited by us against the enemy or has been used for martyrdom attack somewhere else?

The deployment of children is totally forbidden in our ranks. In practice we can say it explicitly that no one can prove the exploitation of children by us in war. The reason is that it has no advantage; rather it harms the Mujahidin on the following basis:

1. Legally the decision of a child is not trustworthy to attack the enemy and sacrifice his life.
2. A child cannot manage to reach the target and harm the enemy.
3. A child can easily fall to the enemy's hands and can divulge the secrets, hideouts and plans of Mujahidin.
4. A child cannot carry a vehicle or a waistcoat full of mines may be weighing more than 10 kg, to the targeted area.
5. A child cannot move tactically because of his childhood to cross the enemy's security check posts and reach the target.
6. The deployment of children in Jihadi ranks has its own moral disadvantages which are legally forbidden. The special rules and procedures of the Islamic Emirate regarding the Martyrdom attacks say:

(Article no.19: In all activities related to Jihad and especially in martyrdom attacks, the deployment of beardless and youngsters is strictly prohibited. Everyone should try to prevent it.)

Besides all the above arguments:

- What is the meaning of an unjustifiable statement by a high ranking figure like Ján Kubiš?
- Whether this claim does not signify that all of your information is based upon the allegations of our enemy?
- Whether we should remain doubtful that you do not want to disclose the realities?
- Whether we should rely upon your information and reports anymore?
- Whether we can still consider you as an impartial organization?

Reaction of spokesman of Islamic Emirate regarding the desecration of the Holy Quran in Guantanamo and strike by inmates

18/04/1434 10/12/1391 28/02/2013

For a long period now, the invaders have been carrying out reprehensible activities, under a pre-drawn plan, aimed against the sanctities of Islam which unquestionably is very offensive and worrying for the Islamic world.

For twenty days now, inmates in the notorious Guantanamo prison which is operated and controlled by America, have been protesting the desecration of the Holy Quran carried out by American soldiers inside and to this day no organization has heard their voice.

The Islamic Emirate condemns this despicable act with the strongest of words and considers it a cowardly and shameful action of the defeated America. It likewise calls on the Islamic world, all Human Right organizations and every international aid/assistance group to investigate this act of America in the mentioned prison and work to prevent such activities and psychological torture taking place against defenseless detainees in this barbaric prison for the past eleven years. That the inmates are still carrying on with their strikes, which naturally means they have deprived themselves of food and other little comforts, therefore we call on the International Red Cross Committee and other Human Right groups, in accordance with their due obligation, to inform themselves of this prison and reach out to prisoners in dire conditions. Similarly, all the Ulema (Scholars), religious organizations and aid/assistance groups of the Islamic world must also categorically condemn this American transgression and take every necessary step needed for preventing repetition of such occurrences in the future.

The spokesman of Islamic Emirate
Zabihullah Mujahid

The Islamic Emirate holds the message of Islamic brotherhood with itself.

22 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 - 03 February 2013

For a long period of time various circles are trying to defame the Islamic Emirate by different ways and to present dim and vague pictures of this immaculate system. Sometime they blame that it is against learning and education; sometime they say that it is not in favor of women rights; sometime they blame it for violating the human rights; sometime they hold it responsible for not trying to promote the inter-Afghan peace and harmony. These and likewise other baseless accusations and unsubstantiated blames are irresponsibly ascribed to the Islamic Emirate by some selfish persons and organizations as an integral part of the war launched by the enemy. Nevertheless we have clarified our position from time to time concerning all these issues.

Nowadays a new series of the undue accusation has been started. Some people print out menacing letters on the fake pads of the Islamic Emirate, mark it with a forged stamp and then ascribe it to a commander of the Islamic Emirate as if that commander has given him life threatening. Then they forward this letter to the foreign governments to show them that their life is in danger. This is the false propaganda exploited by some people even during the reign of the Islamic Emirate and thus deceived the foreigners just for the sake of their personal interests.

Actually it is the ravaged economic conditions of the country which have forced our helpless people to make either bogus documents or sell their offspring or do other likewise undue acts in the hope of reforming their lives.

The invaders made a lot of hollow claims and exhausted the media by these kinds of boasting and bragging that they have come for the prosperity of Afghanistan and have brought sacks of dollars with them. Now it has been clarified to everyone that what kind of souvenir they have brought to our country. They have not brought anything else but adversity, destruction and hatred. The sacks full of dollars which they brought with themselves had either been spent by themselves or their cronies or have been pulled out of Afghanistan. Thus they paved the road for corruption and immorality to sprout and then spread out to the extent that even full fledged buildings constructed by their money have vanished as admitted by themselves. The end result is that the oppressed Afghan people are dying of severe cold and hunger today. Women are tyrannized; infants are killed in their cradles and numerous Afghans are living under poverty line to the extent that even a few kilometers away from Kabul palace, courageous fathers and affectionate mothers sell their dear and beloved little female children. The youth of the nation make forged documents and are trying to go abroad on very perilous ways.

The Islamic Emirate while strongly denying all these allegations, once again declares that we have the message of Islamic brotherhood with ourselves. We respect all sects of our people. We do not have threatening messages for anyone. The Islamic Emirate has been established to wipe out the miseries and adversities of the Afghan nation. It has been resisting for the previous eleven years as Jihad against the American invasion and has rendered a lot of sacrifices. As it is the demand of our Muslim nation, our all-inclusive holy Jihad will remain uninterrupted Insha-Allah (God willing) till the invasion is brought to an end and an environment of peaceful life under the supervision of an Islamic government is set up in our beloved homeland and it is never hard for Allah Almighty.

Islamic Conference, successes and new hopes

29 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 - 10 February 2013

'The Islamic world Issues and chances of development' was the caption of the periodical meeting of the Islamic Conference held on 6th and 7th February 2013, in the Egyptian capital Cairo. The heads and distinguished representatives of 56 Islamic countries out of total 57 member countries of this organization participated. The Syrian membership is suspended because of the ongoing situation and was not given the right to participate.

The Organization of Islamic Cooperation, which was previously known as the Organization of Islamic Conference, was established in a historical summit in the Moroccan capital Al-Rabat on 25 September 1969. This organization came into being in the result of the historical brutality of Zionists when they intentionally put the Al-Aqsa Mosque on fire on 21st August 1969 with great barbarism.

The Organization of Islamic Cooperation was based on I'man(belief) and Taqwa(piety). Strengthening of Islamic brotherhood, defense of the Muslim nations, unification of the Muslim world, growth of economic relations among the Muslim countries, helping one another in solving the issues and restoration of justice on international level are included in its objectives.

The twelfth summit of this organization was inaugurated on last Wednesday with the opening speech of the Egyptian President, Mr. Mohammad Mursi and its leadership was also transferred to Egypt. As Egypt is an important country on the regional and international level, the hopes of the oppressed Muslim masses will boost up for the future of this organization regarding the emancipative optimistic decisions and they will surely revere this kind of resolutions.

In its history of 44 years, this organization has backed the oppressed nations and besides supporting the crucial issue of the Islamic world (i.e. Palestine issue) has also tried to defend Al-Aqsa Mosque, Babri Mosque and other Islamic sanctities. In eighties, the historical decision of the Islamic Conference is commendable when it firmly stood alongside Afghanistan against the then Soviet Union and persistently supported the Afghan nation until the red forces withdrew from the pious land of Afghanistan. Today it has girded up its loins to assist the distressed people of Syria and is trying to relieve the grief of this Muslim nation.

The Afghan nation is facing a lot of troubles and miseries since 2001 just because of the occupation and has kept warm the fronts of Jihad under the leadership of the Islamic Emirate, hopes that the Organization of Islamic Cooperation will support them in repossessing the sovereignty of Afghanistan, establishing an Islamic government and the reconstruction of Afghanistan. It will take urgent and serious measures to solve their intricacies so that the Afghan nation could decide their destiny by themselves after the withdrawal of the occupying assassin forces.

The caravan of Ulema (Scholars) is both flawless and honest

18 February 2013

The history of the virtuous Ulema (scholars) has proved that they have always sacrificed their lives supporting the right cause. Instead of the pecuniary privileges, plans and posts of the spurious devotees, they preferred jails for themselves. We need not to go too far, let us have a look on the recent history of our beloved homeland. The Ulema gave the verdict against the then Soviet Union. Thousands of them were martyred. They suffered a lot of hardships and troubles in the jails of the communist regime. They migrated to other countries because of the cruelties and brutalities but did not surrender to the spurious system. They favoured and supported Mujahidin with full courage and fidelity.

The communists blamed the Ulema as British stooges. They set up an institute with the name of 'The Islamic Affairs' Institute' to deceive the common people and appointed some persons there by the name of Mulla (a regional term for the religious scholar). Later on when Mujahidin were at the verge of success, they were compelled to implore, apologize and seek protection from the Ulema. They called them the real children of motherland. This is the same Pharaohnic game. When they used to suffer, they begged mercy from the Prophet Moses (A.S.), but when they were relieved, they used to become arrogant. When they witnessed the death with their own eyes, they tried to believe in Allah Almighty, but the wisdom of Allah Almighty is that He does not accept I'man (belief) in the last breath.

The people of Afghanistan deeply love the Ulema. They know them very well and obey them. As far as Taliban are concerned, they consider them as their spiritual fathers. They fully respect them. The Islamic Emirate has launched the Holy Jihad against the Americans and their Allies by the verdict of the Ulema and will continue it. Of course, the people serving the invading enemy by misusing the pious names of Mulla, Moulavi and Ulema, can never represent the Righteous Ulema of our homeland. Unfortunately they are in the category of vicious savants.

Allah Almighty has praised the Ulema in His Holy Book and has highly graded those who acquire knowledge. Fearing from Allah is counted to be their special characteristic. Now if some people serve the enemy of Allah just for the sake of dollars and post i.e. worldly benefits, he has actually put aside all the teachings of the Holy Quran and the sayings of the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him) which refrain us from the enemy. These people are only harming and staining their Islamic Identity.

This double game of the enemy cannot damage the flawless caravan of the respected Ulema. This caravan will continue till the doomsday with the same sincerity and honesty because the Holy Prophet (peace be upon him) has said:

(لا تزال طائفة من أمتي ظاهرين على الحق لا يضرهم من خذلهم حتى يأتي أمر الله وهم كذلك). رواه مسلم

The Muslim (one of the most authentic recorders and narrators of the traditions of the Holy Prophet) narrated, (A group of people from my disciples will remain on the right path till the doomsday. No one's foul play will harm them.)

Imam Bukhari (another recorder and narrator of the traditions of the Holy Prophet peace be upon him) said, (هم أهل العلم) i.e. (They will be the owners of knowledge.)

Imam Navavi (may Allah bless him) says,

(وفي هذا الحديث معجزة ظاهرة ؛ فإن هذا الوصف ما زال بحمد الله تعالى من زمن النبي صلى الله عليه وسلم إلى الآن ولا يزال حتى يأتي أمر الله المذكور في الحديث) شرح النووي على مسلم، باب فضل الرمي والحث عليه

Translation: (There is an apparent miracle in this tradition. All praise be to Allah, that this feature is found incessantly from the time of The Holy Prophet till today and will persist till the decree of Allah, mentioned in this tradition becomes true (i.e. doomsday).

The latest report of UNAMA is written in the spirit of giving acquittal to the foreigners, not for

26 February 2013

The office of the United Nations in Kabul published a report regarding the civilian casualties in Afghanistan on February 19. For the first time, in this report the United Nations mentioned the decrease of civilian casualties as compared to the last six years. In this report Mujahidin were blamed for 81%, the Kabul admin and ISAF for 8% and unknown groups for the remaining 11% of the civilian casualties. This report of the UNAMA is prepared on the basis of the eye witnesses and the observations of the government officials as they claim.

UNAMA has published this kind of reports in the previous years and the source of the information used to be UNAMA itself and secondly the employees of the Kabul admin and not the eye witnesses. The point that technically brings the authenticity of this report under question is that they blame the opposition (i.e. Taliban) for the civilian casualties on the basis of the sayings of Kabul admin employees.

For example a part of their report (a similar report was read by a well know spokesman, Nazeefulla Salarzai, on Talu television channel) says: "... The situation in this district is very bad. On one side the Taliban come and plot mines against the government forces. If we point them out to the state forces, then Taliban threaten us and if we don't point them out, then the state forces vex us for leaving or permitting Taliban in our villages. No mediator is there to whom we could complain and who could emancipate us from this nonsense. These are the words of an official worker of Pajwai district in Kandahar province.

There are other defects in this report which are explained in the following:

1. Partiality: In the sense that the above report is prepared, from top to bottom, on the basis of the observations of official employees who work in the areas controlled by the government. The viewpoints of the real victims and eye witnesses are not included. The reason is that the bombing of the external forces usually take place in villages or in far flung areas which are visited neither by the UNAMA' workers nor the government employees can go there. This is the reason that UNAMA has said nothing in these reports about those civilians who are killed either in these brutal bombings or during the night operations.

2. During the publication of this report, practically tens of civilians were martyred in Konar, Maidan Shar and Kapisa provinces in the attacks and bombs of the external forces. The delegation sent by Karzai also confirmed on the basis of the eye witnesses in the region that the external forces are the perpetrators of these crimes but UNAMA's report says nothing about it.

3. During the publication of UNAMA's report, Karzai ordered the Defense and Interior Ministries not to seek assistance and bombing from the foreign forces in the operations against the Taliban. This decree itself confirms that the main reason of the civilian casualties is this bombing.

4. Simultaneously with the publication of this report, the media reported that the drone attacks inside Afghanistan have increased by 72%. According to the American senator Lindsey Graham, overall 4700 people, mostly civilians, have been killed in this blind bombing. But UNAMA has not mentioned these bombing of the rural areas.

5. The abovementioned report of UNAMA blamed unknown groups for 11% casualties which is itself a great defect from legal point of view where the crime has taken place openly and the perpetrator is unknown in the report.

6. The United Nations as an impartial side should have drafted this report on the basis of observation and understanding with all parties involved. But the office of this organization in Kabul, UNAMA has neither made any contact nor reached any understanding regarding the civilian casualties with a very significant and central factor of the issue i.e. The Islamic Emirate. While the Islamic Emirate has asked them repeatedly to collect the facts and figures of the civilian casualties from eye witnesses in all parts of Afghanistan through a joint commission of ICRC, the United Nations and The Islamic Emirate. The report should then be published in the light of that collected information. But UNAMA has never accepted this proposal. Neither has it considered anyone else's viewpoint besides its own workers or the employees of the government.

Consequently on the basis of the above mentioned realities we can say that the latest report of UNAMA has been prepared on the recommendation of the Americans in the intention of providing acquittal to the external forces from those crimes and brutalities which have been carried out against the helpless Afghans who have been martyred during their blind bombing and night operations. They have not published the real and exact figures of the civilian casualties in Afghanistan in this baseless and biased report.

REPORT

30 enemy commanders killed in ten provinces in the past month

23 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 - 04 February 2013

Dawood Azimi, who always understates the losses of his hireling and demoralized army, once again forwarded fabricated and false numbers to the media and stated that only a hundred and something soldiers have been lost in the past three months, also using the idiom of Sayyaf (mufti of ISAF) by labeling them martyrs. Truly, it is a great treachery against the noble title of 'martyr'; they have sold our medals of honor and are now actively trying to betray the honorable title of 'martyrdom'. Most parts of Ghor province are under the control of Mujahidin

24 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 - 05 February 2013 05:16

Ghor province is situated in the western zone of Afghanistan. Jozjan and Farah are situated in the north, Bamyan and Urzgan in the east, Helmand and Farah in the south and Herat and Badghis in the west of this province. The total area of this province is 36479 sq. kilometer and the population is more than 500,000.

Ghor province is mostly a mountainous area. Its winter is severely cold. It has very few plain areas. The inhabitants of this province are mostly Tajiks. Similarly some Uzbiks, Hazaras and Pashtuns are also living in this province.

Ghor province has totally ten districts. Apart from one district (Lal-o-Sarjangan), Mujahidin have strong presence in all other areas. Approximately 70% area is under the control of Mujahidin. The district of (Lal-o-Sarjangan) is situated on the border of Bamyan province and the dwellers are mostly Hazaras belonging to Shia sect. Here Hezb-i-Wahdat group is in power. It was the only turbulence area of Ghor province even in the reign of the Islamic Emirate and there were movements against the Islamic Emirate. Apart from this district, Mujahidin have control in all other areas of this province.

Shinkot, Teora, Dolina and Shahrak are the name of those districts where the government institutions are present only in the central areas. The remaining areas are completely cleaned up from the enemy. In Charsada and Dolatyar districts, most of the areas are also under the control of Mujahidin. Adjacent to Herat province, Saghar and Tulak are the districts where Mujahidin have strong presence but they don't have full control. Moulvi Attaullah Umari who was the part of a delegation to evaluate the Jihad situation and has visited Ghor province, says that Mujahidin had even stronger and general influence than our estimations. Most parts were freed from the enemy. In many districts the enemy's bases were besieged by Mujahidin and the enemy was unable to come out and perform operations. In Ghor province only the main road from Herat to Chaghcharan (the capital of Ghor province) is open and can be utilized by the enemy for his logistics. The roads of the districts are closed for the enemy and in most of the areas the enemy is supplied by air.

According to Moulvi Attaullah another considerable point was the vast support of the people for Jihad. There was no one in the villages, towns and districts, supporting the enemy. All the people were co-operating Mujahidin. The people recognized the Islamic Emirate as their official government system and used to refer all their cases to the courts of the Islamic Emirate.

In Ghor province the invading forces of Norway are deployed who have presence only in the capital city of Chaghcharan. The foreign invaders are found nowhere else in this province. The enemy only controls the central city of Chaghcharan and some neighboring areas. In these areas the government has utilized some of the Arbakis (a tribal soldier setup) to defend the official departments but they have no presence in other parts of the province. In Ghor province the losses of Mujahidin are very little as compared to the losses of the enemy. According to Mujahidin of this province, no incident has taken place in which Mujahidin are martyred collectively.

Mujahidin in Ghor province say that the national and internal media have been very unjust in presenting the picture of this province. Although most of the areas of this province have been conquered by Mujahidin and the enemy has a very symbolic presence here, but still the media is depicting the picture as if Mujahidin have no presence in this province. They (the Mujahidin) say that the communication problems in this province have been the main obstacle that most of the time the reports of Jihad operations are not broadcasted. But generally it can be said that this area is one of the most important Jihadi areas where the masses are standing shoulder to shoulder with Mujahidin and the enemy enjoys no place amongst them.

In Ghor province there used to be hostility and enmity among different tribes, but with the blessings of Jihad and Mujahidin, all those rivalries and difficulties are solved and now the people are living in more cordial atmosphere as compared to the past. If we go into the details of Jihadi operations of Ghor province, this article might get exceedingly protracted. You can read the detailed reports of the Jihadi operations of Ghor province in the news portion of the Al-Emarah website and similarly in the (Morchal Magazine) of the publication department of the Islamic Emirate.

Mujahidin had great political and military achievements in the year 2012.

23 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 - 04 February 2013

Last year by the grace of Allah Almighty the justified and holy Jihad of the Islamic Emirate against the occupying forces and their mercenaries reached to the extent that severe blows were given and decisive attacks were carried out against the enemy in the battlefields inflicting enormous casualties on the invaders. On political front either the maturity, logic and power of the Islamic Emirate became evident and proved to the world. The conferences of Japan and Paris are visible examples for it.

Whatsoever the Americans and their puppet media, hired by dollars, decrease the number of American casualties to hundreds, these claims are absolutely wrong and the figures are fabricated because according to the Wall Street Journal, an American newspaper, last year the number of attacks against Americans exceeds 30 thousand. If the Americans and their puppet media do not admit the killing of four or five soldiers in each attack, they should acknowledge at least one soldier killed and one wounded. And if they do not admit even this, then they will be hiding the sun by just two fingers. But the overall reality is that during last year due to increase of Jihadi attacks in number and strength, heavier than ever financial and corporeal losses were inflicted on the enemy. Moreover the considerable good news for the Afghan nation is that because of military tactics and targeted attacks of Mujahidin, the Americans confessed the abscondence of 30 thousand combatants from Afghanistan. But in reality the number of American soldiers either fled or evacuated is greater than this because in different provinces of Afghanistan most parts are completely freed from the American occupation. Similarly France withdrew all its forces from Afghanistan. The New Zealand evacuated most of its troops and said about absolute abscondence. Belgium also tied up their bedrolls. The most important thing is the British announcement of getting rid of this grave encumbrance and withdrawal of its troops.

On the other side the year 2012 was fraught with political achievements for Mujahidin. The invitation of the envoys of the Islamic Emirate to various conferences held in Tokyo and France and their the unambiguous stance of ending the invasion are those political accomplishments which undoubtedly exposed all the transgressions of America and NATO in the previous 12 years and step by step revealed to the world their vicious tricks by the names of reconstruction, systemization, human rights and Loya Girga(grand council), planned and convened from time to time, and proved that in the last 12 years the occupiers have either given empty slogans or killed the oppressed Afghans!!!

We tell the trespassers and their stooges that your entire capacity is tested in Afghanistan. You exercised every weapon of brutality and barbarity and utilized numerous satanic deceptions of disintegration. Trillions of dollars were extravagantly spent for this purpose. But you saw the results inadvertent in the year 2012. Allah Almighty bestowed Mujahidin with several political and military triumphs. So it is advisable for you not to think, even for a single moment, about the extension of your occupation in Afghanistan because in the year 2013 Afghanistan will be a land where not only human beings but also bushes and stones will show aggression against you and will cool their hearts!!!

Insha-Allah (God willing)!!!

The Afghan dilemma needs true efforts.

Zabihullah Mujahid

25 Rabi'ul Awal 1434 - 06 February 2013 09:15

For a few days a very warm discussion is going on the media that the heads of the governments of Afghanistan, Pakistan and Britain and some other officials have met in London to strive and find a solution for the Afghan issue. The London conference is part of the series of regional and international gatherings, Jirgas and conferences which are going on for the last ten years. But it neither played any positive role in solving the issues of Afghans and Afghanistan nor showed any other encouraging outcome. According to our assessment the objectives of this kind of conferences can be characterized as follow:

- 1.To divert the general attention from the basic solution of the issue and just to exploit it for propaganda.
- 2.To conceal the political and military deadlock of occupation and the occupiers of Afghanistan from general spectacles and to show that some activity and progress is going on.
- 3.Fulfilling vested individual interests of the political leaders and the provision of raw material for the media channels from the big issue of peace and prosperity of the Afghan nation.

There is always worldwide propaganda for this kind of conferences to the extent that the distressed Afghan nation becomes sanguine. These extraordinary meetings are always considered positive and productive but they are constantly unyielding. It seems that the objective of convening this kind of meetings on the initiative and demand of the westerners is only deception and propagation. The invader western countries want to show themselves pledged for peace and solution of the Afghan issue. They always, while pretending themselves as inviters and mediators, try to dispose of the responsibility of creating the problems and show themselves irresponsible in the ongoing calamity; despite the fact that every rational being knows that the core of the current tragedy lies in the occupation and presence of the western invading countries; because the quality and quantity of issues in Afghanistan and the region were quite less prior to their intrusion. The inference is that after the military evacuation of the west, causes of the problem will vanish and all the issues will be automatically solved. The policy makers of Britain, America and all other countries, having used force constantly for eleven years and facing military trounce at the end, have reached to the conclusion that war in Afghanistan should be terminated. But their amateurish and irresponsible conduct regarding the solution of the issue shows that the invaders have lost their capability of war in Afghanistan and are not determined to really solve the Afghan issue.

Therefore they are taking propaganda gain from the peace slogan and are not trying to take any practical step to fulfill the prerequisites of negotiations. Instead of the right address and true representatives of Mujahidin, they meet and play hide and seek with the counterfeit and ineffective individuals and circles. This kind of behavior not only spoils the future of Afghanistan but also washes away the expectations of Afghans for a peaceful Afghanistan. It has no other outcome. Providing a huge and extravagant setup by the western countries under the name Peace Council to the Kabul regime and then starting horse trading; secret and counterfeit meeting in Dubai and some other western countries; similarly the London conference and likewise other international conferences and meetings; are the real obstacles of effective and fruitful negotiations between the factual sides. They have no other remedy for Afghans and Afghanistan.

This process and all other deceptive maneuver not only adjourn the genuine solution of the Afghan issue but also damage the conviction and intention of different directions and the Afghans in the imminent peaceful Afghanistan.

Instead of these deceitful and propaganda maneuvers, it is better that actual responsible countries (i.e. the westerners) should reconsider their stance of occupation including the reverence for the sovereignty of Afghans and Afghanistan. They should withdraw all their forces from Afghanistan. They should abandon the idea of permanent interference under the cover of strategic contracts and let the Afghan nation enjoy a peaceful and independent life in their homeland. As Hamid Karzai went to Norway from London to sign another deluding paper under the title of strategic agreement, it shows that the westerners and their stooges are not convinced to respect the sovereignty and national will and want to protract the calamity instigated by the foreign interference.

In these circumstances if the Afghan crisis prolongs and jeopardizes the life, property and dignity of Afghans on the daily basis, only the western countries and their stooges will be held responsible for it who keep the propaganda war alive for their vested lusts. They are not only reluctant to take practical steps for a true solution of the issue but also create new hurdles in its way.

Afghanistan in the month of January 2013

03 Rabi'ul Akhir 1434 - 14 February 2013

Note: In this article the incidents, losses and casualties alluded to are those which are acknowledged by the enemy. You can read the details of these daily losses and casualties in the Alemarah and other news websites. January 2013 was the witness of important incidents in which heavy losses and casualties were inflicted on the internal and external enemy. We can briefly analyze them under the following headings:

Corporeal losses:

There is no doubt that in the previous six months approximately fifty thousand external invaders have absconded and have left a number of bases and strongholds, their activities have been limited to a very few bases, therefore the amount of the corporeal losses of the invaders have decreased as compared to the past. But there is even no doubt that if we consider the war strategy of Americans and their allies, it is obvious that they hide the exact number of their losses and we have discussed this issue in details in the previous articles.

On the basis of the above, the foreign invaders have only confirmed the killing of their eight soldiers including three Americans and two British in the month of January. If we put a glance on the digits acknowledged by the enemy in the previous eleven years, this will be the lowest number confessed by the enemy after 2007. The highest number of casualties admitted by the enemy was in the month of January 2012. According to them they had lost their 43 soldiers in that month. In the span of previous eleven years according to the confession of the enemy totally 3257 invaders have been killed inside Afghanistan including these eight persons which is so many times less than the real and accurate figures.

On the other side the cases of suicides among the external invaders are on the increase. According to the reports on Friday 4th January, an American soldier, after being wounded and then fled to his country, committed suicide. Robert Griffith, who was wounded in the Nahr-i-Siraj district of Helmond province, was lifted back to America for treatment. Although the details and whereabouts of this suicide has not been disclosed yet, but in reality hundreds of American soldiers after returning from the war in Afghanistan to their own country are found unable to bear the shocks of fighting and because of the offences they committed here, have now become the prey of various mental and psychic diseases and they have started suicides and killings.

On 14th January the statistics of the brutal American invaders showed that during the year 2012, three hundred and forty nine American soldiers have committed suicide while the unofficial and unconfirmed reports tell that the number of these incidents is quite higher than that.

On the basis of a latest report published in the last days of January, at least 22 soldiers returned and exhausted from the war, commit suicides because of the shocks and anguishes which were inflicted on them during the war.

This calculation does not include those thousands of wounded and disabled persons who have lost parts of their bodies and come out to the roads to get their rights, but the occupying American government has turned a blind eye to their sacrifices.

Financial losses:

Although it is a very difficult job to unveil and arrange the daily figures and accurate statistics of the increasing losses of the internal and external enemy, we can estimate their monthly financial losses as to be worth millions of Afghanis. In various parts of Afghanistan tens of military transport vehicles, tanks and other vehicles of the combined enemy are destroyed and split into pieces on the daily basis because of bomb blasts. The Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate brought down and destroyed a drone of the enemy in the Jani Khail district of Paktika province during the span of this month (January).

Inviting the death after the trounce:

On Thursday 3rd January, the government of Bosnia, in an unexpected announcement, told about dispatching its twenty six soldiers to Afghanistan. The spokesman of the Bosnian army told the France Press news agency that this amount of military police will remain in Afghanistan for ten months and will perform its duty in Kandahar province alongside the International Security Assistance Forces (ISAF).

In the recent past the state of Bosnia wanted to get the membership of NATO, therefore she is sacrificing some of its children to achieve this goal. It is worth mentioning that Turkey has rendered innumerable sacrifices for several years to get the membership of this organization.

On one side, if the state of Bosnia is willing to send her troops to Afghanistan, but on the other side the commander of the American occupying forces who have lost their morale of existence and stability in Afghanistan, Jan Allen told on the same day that he is concluding his responsibility inside Afghanistan in the following month. General Allen was sacked from his duty last year in the month of November for having illegal relations with a female journalist. But later his dismissal was suspended by the White House. Prior to this a number of high ranking generals and officials were compelled to resign for having illegal and illicit relations.

Losses of the internal enemy:

As we have mentioned in the previous months' reports that the disclosure of exact and accurate figures of the day to day increasing losses of the internal enemy is nearly impossible. But 'The Guardian' which is one of the leading newspapers of Britain, published on 29th January in a special report that in the last six month, 1100 soldiers of the mercenary army have been killed. The accurate and real figure is higher than that confessed. We will furnish in the following, the important losses of the stooge administration in different provinces.

According to a report of the Alemara website, in the last month (January) 30 commanders of police and army have been killed.

On Tuesday 8th January, two high ranking officials of police force were killed in Kunduz province by the hand of Mujahidin. In two separate attacks, Mujahidin killed the commander of the recruitment centre of Dasht-i-Archi district and a commander of regional police force (Arbakis). It is worth mentioning that low ranking police and personnel have also been either killed or wounded in these attacks.

On the following day of this incident, 90 policemen were poisoned in the police academy of Balkh province. The incidents of poisoning the policemen are on the rapid increase by the infiltrated workers. The in-charge of jail in Dasht-i-Archi district was also killed by Mujahidin on the same day.

On Wednesday, 11th January, in 'Tareen Kot' city, the capital city of Urzgan province, at least three workers of the national security of the mercenary army were killed in an attack of Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate. Moreover in Panjway district of Kandahar province, a policeman, present in a post of the Arbakis (regional police force), first poisoned all the policemen and then killed the commander of that post. Later on, this infiltrated Mujahid managed to escape along with two Kalashnikovs and some other weapons. The enemy acknowledged that after the incident this person has successfully escaped and has joined the Taliban.

One day after these incidents, Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate, killed the director of anti crime force of Najrab district in Kapisa province. Two other policemen were also severely injured in this attack.

On Tuesday 26th January, Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate brought a number of high ranking officials under attack in Kunduz province. Consequently the director of anti terrorism department alongside tens of other personnel of this department were either killed or wounded.

On Sunday, 27th January, the security commander of Pusht-i-Koh district of Farah province came under the attack of Mujahidin and was killed. One day after this incident, the head of the second part of Kohistan district of Kapisa province was killed in a similar incident.

The abscondence of the servants and rebuilders of the country:

On Tuesday, 1st January, the BBC told in a special report that more than 40% diplomats and representatives of the Kabul administration want to remain and seek political asylum in the foreign countries.

The series of flee or abscondence of the workers of this administration is going on for the last few years and every year tens of high level officials do not return to their country after paying a visit to the foreign country. The report adds that most of the officials who flee and seek asylum in the foreign countries are those who are recruited in the embassies on the basis of recommendations or briberies. They are not ready to go back to their country after the expiry of their service period. It should not be forgotten that even the members of parliament are included in these fled people. It is worth mentioning that the officials and especially the diplomats, present in the puppet and stooge administration, always give the slogans of service and the reconstruction of the country. They have taken or eaten up millions of dollars on the basis of this excuse and when the dollars are finished, they have considered flee and escape better than serving or reconstructing the country.

Joining the ranks of Mujahidin:

The available news shows that last month hundreds of people, present in the enemy's ranks, have changed their sides. They have left the enemy and have joined Mujahidin after realizing the facts and figures. According to the reports of the Invitation and Guidance and the Attraction and Absorption Commissions, last month at least one hundred and forty six persons including several commanders joined the ranks of Mujahidin along with their light and heavy weapons and other logistics. Here we would like to mention some cases of surrender:

On 7th January, reports from Farah province told that approximately six policemen are missing from this province. It is said that these policemen left their posts in the Khak-i-Safaid district of this province and have surrendered to Mujahidin along with their weaponry.

On Wednesday, 15th January, a person present in a post of Arbakis (the local tribal militia) killed the commander of the post after poisoning his other fellows and then managed to escape along with his two Kalashnikovs and some other weapons. The enemy has admitted that this person has joined the ranks of Mujahidin after carrying out the operations.

On 20th January, three policemen, along with one ranger type vehicle and twelve guns, joined Mujahidin in Khashroad district of Nemroz province.

On 23rd January, one commander along with his soldiers, one mortar gun, one rocket, eight kalashinkoves and one ranger type vehicle, changed his side and joined Mujahidin in Khashroad district of Nemroz province.

Similarly on 30th January, the deputy head of the tribal council of Khost province joined Mujahidin after the invitation of the Attraction and Absorption and Guidance Commissions of the Islamic Emirate.

Civilian losses and their torture:

It is very difficult to completely elaborate the incidents of torture and sufferings of the civilians in this short article. Nevertheless according to the reports of the website of the Islamic Emirate, which is prepared on the basis of the information of BBC and Radio Liberty, during the span of last month at least forty one civilians have been martyred and sixty one others have been abducted by the occupiers and their mercenaries. The number of injured persons exceeds the total number of martyrs and abducted people in this month. Here we would like to mention some of the incidents:

On Tuesday 8th January, hundreds of people were beaten up in Laghman province by the forces of the stooge administration in the continuation of their cruelties over the helpless and oppressed masses. The reason for this incident was told that the people have torn apart the flag of the stooge government.

On the same date, in Kunduz province, the Arbakis (local tribal militia) carried out another brutal attack. They killed three persons including two women and then looted their houses.

On day after this incident, the foreign invading forces martyred a civilian and wounded three others in Kandahar province. This incident took place after the intentional collision of a vehicle of the invaders with a motor bike in Khawajak Baba area of Kandahar province.

On Saturday, 26th January, a person was martyred by the occupying forces in the capital of Balkh province, Mazar Shareef, just on the basis of the lame excuse that he was going to collide his motor bike with their vehicle.

Two days later, a vehicle of the ISAF occupying forces collided with a 303 model vehicle of the civilians and consequently 13 people were wounded. The killing of civilians by the occupying forces on the basis of different lame excuses has become a routine work while motivating no reaction from the mercenary setup.

On Sunday 13th January, in Tangi area of Said Abad district of Maidan Wardak province, at least 7 innocent civilians, including children and women, were martyred in a series of brutal operations. After the bloody incident of last year in which 32 Americans were killed, the invading forces have started to take the revenge of their dead bodies from the oppressed people of this village. They have martyred hundreds of the villagers and have arrested hundreds of others from time to time.

On Friday 18th January, in the series of killing the civilians, the occupying forces martyred two women in the Shindand district of Herat province. While the people of the area give evidence of the martyrdom of two women but the devious American enemy, very shamelessly gave the report of the martyrdom of two Taliban.

On the other hand, on 21st January, the occupying forces made a barbaric bombardment in Nad Ali district of Helmand province in which a large number of civilians were martyred.

On Tuesday, 22nd January, the inhabitants of the Siyah Gard district of Parwan province made the complaint against the police force and Arbakis, related to the Kabul admin, for beating up civilians. In a separate incident, on 27th January, the external invaders martyred three other civilians in the Baraki Barak district of Logar province.

Similarly the dwellers of Maidan Wardak province have fed up with the invading forces, present in this province and showed their reactions in various ways. When these complainers warned the mercenary setup of Kabul that if their issues are not solved they will take a serious action; then the head of that admin, Hamid Karzai, appointed a commission to assess the issue and find the solutions for it. But on 29th January, the media reported the inhabitants of above mentioned province say that although the commission has been appointed but their issues are not solved and they are still agonized by the invaders. This is the reason that they are leaving their homes, orchards and other livelihood and are migrating to other comparatively safer areas.

On Thursday, 31st January, the American invading forces targeted the civilians in Khas Kunar district of Konar province and wounded at least three civilians as acknowledged by the mercenaries.

Acknowledgement and evidences of brutality and barbarism:

On Wednesday, 15th January, the American occupiers announced that they cannot hand over the responsibility of prisons according to the agreement, just because of the tortures and painful agonies carried out by the workers of the stooge administration. The unpleasant treatment of the Afghan prisoners is the issue which has severely been criticized again and again by the internal and external human activists and defenders, but so far no serious reaction has been shown in this connection. While the American invaders are refraining from handing over the responsibility of jails to the local admin, the same kind of repugnant behavior has reached to its climax as confessed by most of the supporters of the invasion. Last month the occupiers acknowledged the presence of two hundred children in their prisons but other sources say that their number is even higher than 500.

On Monday 21st January, the United Nations once again confessed this bitter reality that the prisons under the control of stooge administration avail their support and backing. This report says that half of the prisoners, when they are investigated, say that they are under severe tortures and sufferings. The report adds that the prisoners are severely beaten and are given electric shocks. The invading forces of ISAF have also confirmed this report. They add that because of the disgraceful behavior with the prisoners under the control of the Kabul administration, they have postponed the transfer of jail affairs of other prisoners. Besides all these confirmations and confessions, the supporter of invasion and the stooge officials have denied these reports and have brought their masters under criticism. Although there is too much tumult and hubbub in the media against the ill treatment of prisoners in the jails of the mercenary admin of Kabul, but practically nothing has been done and no positive step has been taken till now.

Hatred of the people and infiltration in the enemy's ranks:

The Muslim masses of Afghanistan have shown their hatred and resentment against the occupation of their country from the beginning till today in various forms and shapes. This resentment of the people has caused that sporadically some considerate Afghan soldiers and policemen after comprehending the realities, carry out decisive attacks on the internal and external enemies amongst their ranks and then join Mujahidin. Similarly, Mujahidin have recruited some individuals to carry out these kind of tactical and successful Jihadi attacks at the prefixed times.

In the series of these hateful protests, on Sunday 6th January, the people of Tareen Kot district of Urzgan province started demonstration against the workers of the stooge administration. The protesters, who were in thousands, raised their voices against the cruelty and corruption in this province and chanted slogans.

After this incident, on 7th January, a vigilant infiltrated soldier turned his gun point towards the British soldiers and killed 7 external invaders on the spot, in Nahr-i-Siraj district of Helmond province. The internal and external enemy confirmed the incident but said that only one foreign soldier has been killed and seven more have been injured.

Immediately after this incident, the spokesman of the ISAF invading forces, Günter Kitz said that the internal attacks are still a great threat for them inside Afghanistan. In the statement which was given after this incident, it was said that in the years 2011 and 2012 nearly 70 internal attacks have been carried out against them in which at least 96 invading soldiers have been killed.

The Muslim people of Afghanistan are entering the field of resistance and struggle against the stooge administration and external invaders, bearing in minds their regional considerations. On Tuesday 12th January, the inhabitants of Tagab district of Kapisa province rose against the cruelty and brutality of the regional police and Arbaki force and started demonstrations, but the officials of the stooge regime paid them no attention.

On 21st January, the residents of Bati Kot district of Nangarhar province, started furious demonstrations after being agonized by the army and police force of the mercenary admin and showed their frustration.

Similarly on Tuesday 15th January, three Afghan vigilant Afghan soldiers opened fire on Italian invading forces and killed at least three of them in Bala Bolok district of Farah province. It is said that four other Italian soldiers were severely injured in this incident.

Although the external occupiers and their internal puppets have repeatedly denied the vast penetration of Mujahidin in their ranks or have considered it partially, on 22nd January, the deputy head of the ISAF invading forces acknowledged that internal attacks are one the tactics of the enemy and they are trying to stop it. Even in the past, the invaders openly admitted this penetration but under estimated it as less than thirty per cent.

Simultaneously with the acknowledgement of the deputy head of ISAF, an infiltrated Afghan opened fire on the foreign invaders and killed at least two invaders in Ali Shang district of Laghman province.

The above mentioned incidents are a handful out of a heap which shows the extent of enemy's losses. As above, the enemy has confirmed eight incidents of this kind in the previous month (i.e. January).

Looting of Banks:

The 'The New York Times' reported on the basis of its own sources from Kabul airport in December last year that only in the month of October 2012, at least 560 pounds gold which is equivalent to 14 million dollars, have been shifted to outside via this port. After that, on Sunday 6th January, the president of Afghan National Bank announced that 450,000 American dollars have been stolen from this bank.

Looting and plunder inside the country is going under the name of various excuses. A delegation, after visiting Nooristan province, gave the report on 8th January, that in this province 2700 barrel guns and 50 ranger type vehicles have been stolen. It is worth mentioning that out of these vehicles some have fallen to hands of Mujahidin and some others have been stolen and then sold by the army personnel and policemen.

Another conspiracy of selling the country:

On Tuesday 8th January, the head of the puppet regime of Kabul, Hamid Karzai, went to America. The objective of this trip was some new agreements and the signing of more documents of selling the country. It was decided that apart from this agreement, Karzai will also sign the judicial immunity pact. He had already said two days prior to his trip that two independent states can sign security agreements. Hamid Karzai is claiming sovereignty in such a condition while he himself had said in one of his famous statements in June 2012 that America is interfering in the affairs of his country and has appointed a stooge president to safeguard the American interests here.

Two days after this trip when the masters of the Kabul regime said that they will evacuate all their forces from Afghanistan till the end of 2014, and the members of this puppet admin saw that their slavery is going to end, they started hubbub and expressed their concern that with the withdrawal of all invading forces the country will be plunged into the civil war and destruction once again.

When the head of the puppet regime of Kabul achieved some promises of new aids and the existence of the occupying forces for a longer period of time, the American president, Barak Obama along with his slave Hamid Karzai, said in a joint press conference on 13th January, that the existence of American forces will be co-related with the judicial immunity of these forces. He clearly said that whatever number of forces will remain there, will enjoy judicial immunity.

Wherever the American brutal forces have been stationed, they have committed a lot of crimes over there. Therefore the president of the invading forces made it clear that the American forces cannot remain in any country where they do not enjoy judicial exemption.

After this conference, Hamid Karzai made it clear in a special interview with the CNN that he is optimistic that his mercenary friends will be unanimous about the judicial immunity of their masters. On the following day he said that judicial immunity is the authority of the Loya Jirga (the traditional Grand Council).

Whenever the invaders or their mercenaries have desired that their self made decisions should be imposed over the Muslim Afghan nation, they have convened a gathering by the name of Loya Jirga and then called it national a decision or opinion. The decisions of the previous Loya Jirgas are the clear examples and expressions for it.

Although the members of the puppet regime of Kabul have expressed their satisfaction from this trip and have considered themselves indebted to the blessings and bestowments of their masters, but the head of this admin, Hamid Karzai does not seem to be very much optimistic about these hollow promises. After returning from his trip to America, on 22nd January, he said in Kabul that America should fulfill and implement her promises. Though he had announced earlier that the external masters have assured him about the provision of Drones, but the American invaders announced in Washington that Karzai has been too early in this case and America has not taken any decision in this regard.

Judicial immunity and ostentatious courts:

After the Karzai's visit to Washington and the announcement of the American invaders that they will withdraw all their troops from Afghanistan after 2014, the officials of the Kabul admin were badly frightened and said that their life is co-related with the presence of the invading forces inside the country. On Friday, 11th January, the defense secretary of America, Leon Panetta announced that they are not quitting Afghanistan.

Though Obama made it clear that after 2014, they will not be playing fighting role in Afghanistan, but on the other side, announced the dispatch of 130 model helicopters. These helicopters might be given in the control of Kabul administration.

In return Obama has asked Karzai to sign the accord of judicial immunity for their brutal, criminal and occupying forces. Similarly Karzai has said that in the absence of National Sovereignty he cannot sign this agreement. If Karzai stands firm to his words, he can never sign this agreement, because his puppet regime had National Sovereignty and support neither in the past nor he will have it today. Karzai himself has admitted this fact again and again.

The Islamic Emirate of Afghanistan considers the existence of the occupying forces to be the main reason of prolongation of war and has condemned and denounced all kind of agreements and accords between the slave and the master.

On one side it is under the consideration of Karzai to give judicial immunity to his masters but on the other side, on Thursday 10th January, the Polish government announced that it is going to trial the four Polish criminal soldiers very soon who are accused of killing the civilians inside Afghanistan. These four soldiers have been acquitted by the primary court although there are enough and reliable evidences that they have intentionally killed a number of civilians inside Afghanistan.

On Friday 18th January, another news was relayed which reveals the injustice of the American invading forces. The news says that the judge of that American court, who investigates the case of Robert Bales, the murderer of civilians including women and children in Zangawat area of Kandahar province, has said that psychological state of that soldier must be verified first. It is worth mentioning that the psychological condition of the American brutal soldiers is not evaluated before dispatching them to the war, but after committing the crimes and brutalities, an effort is made to show that the criminal is suffering from psychological problems and in this a chance of exoneration is bestowed upon him.

American reconstruction:

On one side the American occupiers dream for prolonged existence, but on the other side their so called special supervisor for the reconstruction of Afghanistan, Jan Sap-co, announced on 10th January, that America is missing so many constructions which were considered to have been built inside Afghanistan. Jan Sap-co says that America is spending approximately 28 million dollars on the daily basis inside Afghanistan. This is not the first time that money for reconstruction and projects disappears in Afghanistan. The point is none of the internal or external criminal is either exposed or tried in this connection.

On Wednesday 30th January, this inspector announced that he has found a huge structure in the Imam Sahib district of Kunduz province which was built for the accommodation of border police force and is now being used by the regional commanders for their personal and livestock lodging. It is worth mentioning that last year in Nangarhar province the above mentioned inspector had inspected some police check posts which were dismantled before being utilized. This shows the American reconstruction inside Afghanistan.

Squabbles and differences between the master and the slave:

The media reported on Wednesday 15th January, that grave differences have taken place between the American occupiers and their puppets about the Arbakis (local tribal militia system). The Americans are of the opinion that new Arbakis should be trained and should be imposed upon the oppressed nation of Afghanistan for even more cruelties and brutalities, but the Kabul regime is worried about their increase and defies it. The creation of Arbakis or regional police force which was a major part of the strategy of Jan Allen, the commander of American occupying forces; which has now become a great headache for the masters and their slaves. These criminals commit different crimes in various parts of the country, taking disadvantage of the name of police and have become one of the main reasons of enraging and infuriating the masses against the foreign intruders.

The Al-Farooq Operations:

The Al-Farooq Operations are going on successfully for the last one year in various parts of the country. Here we will have a brief look at them:

On Tuesday 5th January, Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate brought the building of Regional Council of Spin Boldak district in Kandahar province under attack. Eleven persons were killed including the president and other members of the council and 19 more were injured in this assault.

On Wednesday 16th January, a number of martyrdom seeker Mujahidin attacked the building of the Presidency of National Security in the Presidential Square of Kabul and inflicted heavy losses and casualties on the enemy. The enemy confessed the intensity and inimitability of the assault and showed their deep concern about the force and resistance of the material incorporated.

On Monday 21st January, while taking advantage of the directorate of Traffic Police in Kabul, Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate brought the Police Academy under attack and inflicted heavy corporeal and financial losses on the enemy. Eventually in this assault 24 persons were killed and 31 more were injured including the police of quick response, officers of the Police Academy and their foreign trainers and counselors. Apart from these losses, the buildings of the above mentioned departments and all their transport facilities were completely destroyed.

On Friday 25th January, Mujahidin of the Islamic Emirate inflicted heavy losses on the invading forces in a series of martyrdom attacks in Tagab district of Kapisa province. It is said that at least ten foreign soldiers were killed and some others were wounded in this attack. Two days before these operations, the internal and external enemy killed a female member of the provincial council belonging to this district in their search operations and could not make any damage to Mujahidin.

Confession of the Inability and Failure:

While the external masters of Kabul regime and their internal mercenaries expressed that the army trained and inflated by them will be able to shoulder the security responsibilities of the country, the general commander of the occupying forces inside Afghanistan, Jan Allen said in an incidental acknowledgement on 30th January, that the real task of training the mercenary army will start in the spring season of the following year. Jan Allen might be remembering the bitter experiences of every spring season in Afghanistan and he is aware of the fact that the army trained by them might not be efficient enough to combat the spring operations of Mujahidin.

One day after the statement of the commander of occupying forces and in the series of confession of the inabilities and failures of the mercenary army, the head of the Dehraut district of Urzgan province told the reporters that the security forces have failed to keep law and order and preserve security in this district and they have no stamina to fight back the Mujahidin.

How much rational is Obama's decision about the stay of American troops in Afghanistan?

Analysis: Zabuhullah Mujahid.

06 Rabi'ul Akhir 1434 - 17 February 2013

On last Tuesday night (Feb 12, 2013) Obama announced the withdrawal of 34 thousand troops from Afghanistan.

In the beginning of his first presidential term in 2009, Mr. Obama directed to send 35 thousand additional forces to Afghanistan while most of the Eastern analysts and the American military experts had the divergent opinion about this step of Obama. When Obama approved the dispatch of 35 thousand additional forces to Afghanistan on the recommendation of Stanly Mc Cristal, the commander general of American forces; even at that time a number of American experts considered this action of Obama as intentionally forcing the American troops into the death trap. In response to a public opinion survey carried out by 'The Inter Press Service News Agency' with some American observers about sending the additional forces to Afghanistan by Obama, the Executive Chief of the Institute of Public Accuracy in Washington, Norman Solomon, had already said that I do not understand why the officials are deliberately sending our children to the ditch of death, because the dispatch of additional forces is just a military insanity which should have been stopped in the year 2009. Similarly at that time, according to a survey, published by the American television network CNN, 39% people were in favour while 59% were against Obama's decision.

This was the opinion of the American political analysts and public media, when approximately 50 countries had active presence beside the Americans inside Afghanistan and some of them were sending even fresh forces at that time. Now everyone has admitted the defeat of all foreign forces in Afghanistan including the Americans therefore most of the allied countries have already withdrawn their troops from Afghanistan and others have announced, July 2014, as the deadline for their withdrawal. How can Obama achieve in the lost battlefield, with the help of his 16 thousand confidence-lost soldiers, what he could not accomplish in the previous 12 years even in the presence of 150 thousand forces?

Now the question is why did Obama insist upon the dispatch of additional forces to Afghanistan at that time as his military strategy?

If the dispatch of these forces has been effective or showed some practical advantage then why is he announcing their retreat?

If they say that they have accomplished the objectives for which they had sent troops, it bears no reality in the perception of the ground realities in Afghanistan; because the circumstances, when they were sending additional forces to Afghanistan and now when they are evacuating them, have changed substantially from military point of view. At that time the operations of Mujahidin against the foreigners were comparatively less and they were fighting defensive war with the enemy on all fronts throughout the country. Now Mujahidin are more powerful and have changed from defensive situation to the offensive condition in the field of resistance. Throughout the country, Mujahidin are carrying out successful offensive attacks over the Americans and their allies and the enemy cannot halt it despite all their might.

The contradictory decisions of Obama shows that he might have lost his mental equilibrium because of military successes of Mujahidin in Afghanistan therefore he is deciding about their military presence in Afghanistan which is obviously harmful for them instead of being useful; because this limited number of troops who have witnessed the defeat of their colleagues in the battlefield and have lost their morale, are in no way in a position to win the war field which they have lost even in the presence of 150 thousand partners.

Then why is Obama insisting upon the stay of these forces?

Obama has the following objectives to achieve from the presence of this limited number of troops in Afghanistan:

A: He wants to protract the American occupation for the achievement of their military and political colonial objectives in Afghanistan which they had started 12 years ago on the basis of various lame excuses.

B: The Americans, who are renowned in the world as the blood suckers and professional murderers of the oppressed masses, want to keep the war-flames alive in the war-ravaged Afghanistan, so that they could take the revenge through this war from the Afghans who have inflicted devastating corporeal and financial losses on them in the battle field.

C: Through this step Obama wants to exhibit to his international rivals i.e. Russia, China and Iran that they still have the vigor of rivalry in the military and political fields and the existence of American permanent bases in Afghanistan will be an instance for that.

D: The Americans want to include Afghanistan in the list of those permanent colonial countries where the American military bases are present since World War II so that they could take military and logistic advantage of her (Afghanistan) as per needed.

These are the American objectives that Obama want to achieve through the remaining forces inside Afghanistan but whether the ground realities in Afghanistan are primed that the Americans can manage to achieve them through this number of limited troops?

The answer is quite obvious, No and Never!!

The Americans wanted to accomplish these malicious objectives with the collaboration of the international alliance, but the Americans as well as their allies saw that the Americans failed absolutely in the attainment of these objectives. The forces dragged in the American Alliance have now realized that their military presence has been misused by the Americans in the occupation of Afghanistan. That is why that they are neither willing to remain any more inside Afghanistan nor want to support the Americans in this path. The Afghan Nation has also witnessed the cruelties and brutalities of the Americans under the name of democracy and development in the last 12 years. They can never accept that the same invading Americans should have permanent existence in their beloved homeland. The neighbouring and regional countries also consider the American presence inside Afghanistan as a potential threat for them and cannot tolerate that the expansionist Americans should endanger their security from such a close region. Therefore, finally we reach to the conclusion that neither the military and economic conditions of America nor the ground realities inside Afghanistan nor the regional circumstances are ready to accept the American presence over here anymore.

If the Americans and their scatterbrained president want to extend the occupation of Afghanistan just by sheer force against all these facts and figures, then it will be in reality the continuation of the same war lunacy and will never accomplish what they have conceived in their vain-thoughts.

The latest report of UNAMA is written in the spirit of giving acquittal to the foreigners, not for exposing the realities.

25 February 2013

Written by Analysis by Zabihulla Mujahid

The office of the United Nations in Kabul published a report regarding the civilian casualties in Afghanistan on February 19. For the first time, in this report the United Nations mentioned the decrease of civilian casualties as compared to the last six years. In this report Mujahidin were blamed for 81%, the Kabul admin and ISAF for 8% and unknown groups for the remaining 11% of the civilian casualties. This report of the UNAMA is prepared on the basis of the eye witnesses and the observations of the government officials as they claim.

UNAMA has published this kind of reports in the previous years and the source of the information used to be UNAMA itself and secondly the employees of the Kabul admin and not the eye witnesses. The point that technically brings the authenticity of this report under question is that they blame the opposition (i.e. Taliban) for the civilian casualties on the basis of the sayings of Kabul admin employees. For example a part of their report (a similar report was read by a well know spokesman, Nazeefulla Salarzai, on Talu television channel) says: "....

The situation in this district is very bad. On one side the Taliban come and plot mines against the government forces. If we point them out to the state forces, then Taliban threaten us and if we don't point them out, then the state forces vex us for leaving or permitting Taliban in our villages. No mediator is there to whom we could complain and who could emancipate us from this nonsense. These are the words of an official worker of Pajwai district in Kandahar province.

There are other defects in this report which are explained in the following:

1. Partiality: In the sense that the above report is prepared, from top to bottom, on the basis of the observations of official employees who work in the areas controlled by the government. The viewpoints of the real victims and eye witnesses are not included. The reason is that the bombing of the external forces usually take place in villages or in far flung areas which are visited neither by the UNAMA' workers nor the government employees can go there. This is the reason that UNAMA has said nothing in these reports about those civilians who are killed either in these brutal bombings or during the night operations.

2. During the publication of this report, practically tens of civilians were martyred in Konar, Maidan Shar and Kapisa provinces in the attacks and bombs of the external forces. The delegation sent by Karzai also confirmed on the basis of the eye witnesses in the region that the external forces are the perpetrators of these crimes but UNAMA's report says nothing about it.

3. During the publication of UNAMA's report, Karzai ordered the Defense and Interior Ministries not to seek assistance and bombing from the foreign forces in the operations against the Taliban. This decree itself confirms that the main reason of the civilian casualties is this bombing.

4. Simultaneously with the publication of this report, the media reported that the drone attacks inside Afghanistan have increased by 72%. According to the American senator Lindsey Graham, overall 4700 people, mostly civilians, have been killed in this blind bombing. But UNAMA has not mentioned these bombing of the rural areas.

5. The abovementioned report of UNAMA blamed unknown groups for 11% casualties which is itself a great defect from legal point of view where the crime has taken place openly and the perpetrator is unknown in the report.

6. The United Nations as an impartial side should have drafted this report on the basis of observation and understanding with all parties involved.

But the office of this organization in Kabul, UNAMA has neither made any contact nor reached any understanding regarding the civilian casualties with a very significant and central factor of the issue i.e. The Islamic Emirate. While the Islamic Emirate has asked them repeatedly to collect the facts and figures of the civilian casualties from eye witnesses in all parts of Afghanistan through a joint commission of ICRC, the United Nations and The Islamic Emirate. The report should then be published in the light of that collected information. But UNAMA has never accepted this proposal. Neither has it considered anyone else's viewpoint besides its own workers or the employees of the government.

Consequently on the basis of the abovementioned realities we can say that the latest report of UNAMA has been prepared on the recommendation of the Americans in the intention of providing acquittal to the external forces from those crimes and brutalities which have been carried out against the helpless Afghans who have been martyred during their blind bombing and night operations. They have not published the real and exact figures of the civilian casualties in Afghanistan in this baseless and biased report.
